

CHAPTER 8

8.1 General Policy

The school laws of West Virginia allow county boards of education to provide transportation for school-age children. Boards of education are not legally obligated to transport, but are permitted to transport if resources so permit. Public school transportation is a privilege and a convenience.

(West Virginia Code, Chapter 18, Article 5, Section 13)