

Reading Language Arts Websites

Harcourt Trophies – adopted reading series

To use resources that are available on line for Harcourt Trophies go to:

1. Google Search and type in Harcourt Trophies
2. It will come up with a list resource and you can choose those which are appropriate by grade level for your child.

Odyssey

This is a site your child uses at school. They can login using the same username and password from school. It provides many great lessons in reading and math in which your child may already be familiar. Your child's teacher can provide you with your child's login information

<http://odyssey.mars.k12.wv.us/childu/index.html>

BookPALS – Storyline Online

This site has an actor or author reading a story via video streaming. It is a great way to have your students experience the text. There are some follow up activities in which your children can engage.

<http://www.storylineonline.net>

Puzzle Maker

This site allows you to create word search and crosswords with your word lists. This would be a great way for your child to practice his/her weekly spelling words and have some fun.

<http://www.puzzlemaker.com/>

Reading Quest Strategies

This site provides descriptions and samples of various comprehension strategies used in the classroom.

<http://www.readingquest.org/strat/>

Spelling City

This site contains a variety of games in which you can insert your own spelling list.

<http://www.spellingcity.com/>

Education City

This is not a free site, but it does offer a free trial for you to try the resource for a limited time.

<http://us.educationcity.com/>